Oklahoma Workers' Compensation Commission

2022 Annual Report

Introduction

In 2013, the Oklahoma Legislature reformed the workers' compensation system through Senate Bill 1062 by establishing the Administrative Workers' Compensation Act (AWCA). The AWCA created the Workers' Compensation Commission (WCC), which became fully operational effective February 1, 2014. This report reviews the effort and results of the WCC in calendar year 2022.

The statistics reported here reflect the Commission's seventh full year of activity. The number of cases filed (represented by CC-Form 3 filings) rose slightly from 2021 to 2022. Overall, filings continue to be significantly lower than those of the Workers' Compensation Court in the Court's last year of reporting.

The mission of the Workers' Compensation Commission is to serve the public by providing a fair and unbiased forum for the hearing and efficient processing of worker injury claim disputes, to evaluate and administer own-risk applications, and to ensure statutory compliance of those employers required to provide workers' compensation coverage.

The workers' compensation system exists to assist the injured worker in his or her ability to return to work with the most limited interruption to work and family life as possible. The goals of the reform were to provide for injured workers, while reducing costs in the overall system, thereby encouraging job growth in Oklahoma.

To fulfill its mission, the Commission conducts a multitude of functions. The Commission processes requests and notices for claims, settlements, hearings, trials, dockets, and orders. It also receives notices and filings, certifies documents, prepares, and transmits records on appeal, and provides public access to Commission files and records, as authorized by law. To facilitate compliance, the Commission maintains worker's compensation insurance proof of coverage records for employers, and it regulates third-party administrators. The Commission also provides counseling services to its stakeholders.

Our mission is faithfully carried out by a dedicated team of 50 employees in Oklahoma City and Tulsa. A quarter of our staff has nearly 20 years of experience in serving the State's workers' compensation needs. Our Agency boasts an 89% employee engagement score and a 89% job satisfaction score. These scores represent some of the highest scores among all state agencies according to the 2022 Oklahoma State Employee Engagement Survey. This further illustrates the pride our staff takes in serving the needs of their fellow Oklahomans.

The core of our staff are the Administrative Law Judges (ALJ) who seek to move cases quickly and efficiently through the case disposition process. In 2022, the ALJs issued a total of 15,760 orders (see Appendix 6) in 28,058 case settings (see Appendix 7). Through their diligent efforts, cases are brought to a timely resolution. As seen in the Appeals Per New Filing Chart (pg. 12) less cases are going to appeals now than in the previous court system. This can be interpreted as a higher degree of satisfactory outcomes for all parties in cases before the Commission.

Oklahoma Workers' Compensation Commission

2022 Annual Report

The Commission manages a mediation program with the goal of reducing the need for cases to go through the hearing process. Our mediators help both claimants and respondents reach a mutually satisfactory conclusion to disputes. As shown in the Disposition Trends Graph on page 16, most of our cases find resolution without going to trial. Our Administrative Law Judges are further empowered to order cases into the mediation process when they see a case could presumably be settled outside of a hearing.

To provide more efficient services to the public, the Commission is continuing its modernization efforts to replace its antiquated case system, the Workers' Compensation Information System (WCIS.) The new system, CaseOK, currently features numerous improvements in staff work-flow and public access. It also facilitates the Commission's application process for Self-Insured Employers, Group Self-Insurance Associations, and Third-Party Administrators, as well as the filing process for the Affidavit of Exempt Status. The Commission completed the second phase of the CaseOK project in 2022, and now offers the option for attorneys to e-file pleadings, an attorney dashboard for case management, and a digital public search function.

A top priority for the Commission has been to work closely and collaborate with all agencies governed by Title 85A. For example, the Commission is partnering with the Court of Existing Claims to share costs of updating the old court filing system, and the Commission has offered the services and expertise of the agency's CFO to help the MITF better manage its funding mechanisms and budget. The Commission stands ready to assist in any way to ensure workers and businesses have access to a fair and impartial workers' compensation system.

The WCC's spirit of teamwork and cooperation extends beyond the agencies included in Title 85A. The Commissioners feel deeply that the WCC is a part of the larger mission of every state agency to bring about better service to all Oklahomans. In 2022, The Commission partnered with the OMES Civil Service Division and the Oklahoma Bureau of Narcotics to share courtroom space, as needed, to help these agencies carry out their vital mission for the State of Oklahoma.

The Commission is working diligently with partners around the state to inform new business owners on the importance of operating in compliance with Title 85A. Our Compliance Division educates the many new businesses opening across our state as the economy in Oklahoma continues to grow.

The WCC remains committed to serving Oklahomans with the best public service that the provisions of Title 85A empower us to give. Standing up a brand new state agency is no small feat. Many of our staff members have been with the agency since its beginning, and the accomplishments of this agency over the past seven and a half years are only possible because of the hard work, dedication, and experience of our valued employees.

Commissioners' Duties

The Workers' Compensation Commission is composed of three full-time Commissioners, appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the State Senate to serve staggered terms. The Commissioners are state officers precluded from having any other employment except as may be permitted by law. The Chair of the Commission is appointed by the Governor from among the Commission members.

Commissioners perform adjudicative, administrative, and regulatory functions. Those functions include: (1) hearing appeals from decisions and awards of the agency's Administrative Law Judges (ALJs); (2) promulgating rules necessary for the administration and operation of the Commission; (3) regulating employers which self-insure their workers' compensation obligations; (4) maintaining the Commission's Vocational Rehabilitation Registry and lists of Independent Medical Examiners and Medical Case Managers; (5) managing the agency's budget; (6) interacting regularly with the Self-insurance Guaranty Fund Board and workers' compensation advisory bodies to the Commission; (7) participating in educational programs, including an annual, Commission-sponsored workers' compensation conference; and (8) such other matters necessary for administration and operation of the agency.

Appellate Process

The three Commissioners act as an appellate tribunal (known as an "en banc panel") in appeals from decisions of the Commission's ALJs. Unlike most other administrative agencies whose decisions are appealed to the district court, decisions of the panel are appealed directly to the Oklahoma Supreme Court. The law does not allow direct appeals from a ruling by an ALJ to the Supreme Court.

Panel review by the Commissioners involves examining the trial record, reviewing written arguments required to be submitted by the parties, hearing the parties' oral arguments, and deliberating confidentially as permitted by law to render a decision on the appeal. A just and fair consideration of each appeal may require hours of study and demands careful consideration and preparation. The trial record may be quite lengthy depending upon the disputed issues and the documentary and medical evidence submitted. Each Commissioner is responsible for reviewing all authority cited in the written arguments to evaluate proper interpretation and application of the law. The panel of Commissioners deliberates confidentially to discuss a case before an appeals hearing and after an oral argument, before voting and announcing a decision.

The panel may reverse, modify, or affirm decisions or awards made by the Commission's ALJs, or remand the matter to the ALJ for the purpose of taking additional evidence. The decision is pronounced by written order voted upon publicly. In 2022, the Commission heard 77 appeals. Appeals are set promptly for consideration upon completion of the record and receipt of written arguments from the parties as required by Commission rules.

Self-insurance Regulation

In Oklahoma, an employer may satisfy its workers' compensation obligations by qualifying as a self-insurer, either an individual self-insured employer or as part of an approved group association. To self-insure, an applicant must furnish satisfactory proof to the Commission of its financial ability to pay compensation from its own pocket and post an established amount of security (usually a letter of credit or a surety bond) with the Commission to ensure the employer's performance of its self-insurance obligations. Currently, the Commission regulates 140 individual self-insured employers, 5 group self-insurance associations, and 39 third party administrator permits.

The Commissioners' self-insurance regulatory functions include: (1) taking necessary action upon notice of a self-insured's failure or inability to pay its workers' compensation obligations, including bankruptcy or other insolvency proceedings; (2) reviewing requests to reduce or release a security deposit posted with the Commission after an individual self-insured employer voluntarily leaves self-insurance; and (3) reviewing requests to release surplus funds to member employers of a group self-insurance association. These issues require the Commissioners to consider the impact of legal filings, closely review financial statements and other documents, evaluate existing and potential injury losses, and assess any anticipated monetary deficits.

The Commissioners' careful oversight of regulatory issues helps maintain the integrity of self-insurance as an alternative to workers' compensation insurance coverage, and minimizes resort to the Self-insurance Guaranty Fund (SIGF). The SIGF is a statutorily-created fund supported by assessments to address an impaired self-insured's workers' compensation obligations in the event the security posted with the Commission is not sufficient to pay all claims.

The Permitting Services Division assists the Commissioners in the regulation of self-insureds through a variety of activities, including but not limited to, processing new and renewal applications for self-insured employers and group self-insurance associations. This process involves an robust review of the financial statements submitted along with each application to ensure the financial soundness of each applicant. The Division is also responsible for calculating various rates for assessments imposed by Title 85A of the Oklahoma Statutes.

Commissioners

Scott Biggs

Commissioner Biggs joined the Commission after serving as the State Executive Director for the Farm Service Agency within the USDA. Prior to his service with the USDA, Commissioner Biggs was an elected member of the Oklahoma House of Representatives. At the Capitol, Scott served on a variety of committees and in several leadership roles. Much of his work was focused on both agriculture and victims' issues. Scott was the leading voice for State Question 794 which placed victims' rights in the State Constitution. Before his time at the State Capitol, Scott ran a private legal practice and worked in several district attorneys' offices around the state.

Commissioner Biggs currently serves as an officer in the Oklahoma Air National Guard and is assigned to the 138th Fighter Wing legal office in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He was recently recognized with the Patriot Award for his support and cooperation of fellow members in the Guard, Reserves, and veterans of military service in their employment opportunities.

Governor Kevin Stitt appointed Commissioner Biggs to a six-year term with the Oklahoma Workers' Compensation Commission effective August 26, 2021.

2022 Annual Report

Executive Director and Commission Counsel

Lauren Hammonds Johnson is an accomplished legal professional who currently holds the position of Executive Director and General Counsel at the WCC. In this role, she serves as the chief legal and administrative officer, overseeing various aspects of the agency's operations.

One of Lauren's primary responsibilities is to provide counsel and guidance to the Commissioners and Division Directors, ensuring that the agency adheres to state and federal laws. This involves staying updated on relevant legal regulations and advising the agency on compliance matters. By leveraging her expertise, Lauren helps the agency navigate complex legal issues and make informed decisions.

Lauren is responsible for managing and developing the operations and regulatory divisions of the Commission. This involves overseeing the day-to-day activities of these divisions and implementing strategies to improve efficiency and effectiveness. By actively participating in the management of these divisions, Lauren plays a vital role in shaping the agency's overall operations.

Lauren acts as a liaison between the three Commissioners, facilitating communication and collaboration among them. This involves conveying important information, coordinating meetings, and ensuring effective communication channels are established within the agency. By serving as a liaison, Lauren helps promote transparency, cooperation, and a unified approach among the Commissioners.

Before assuming her current role, Lauren worked in various positions within the state government, offering valuable legal advice and counsel. As an Assistant Attorney General assigned to the Oklahoma Attorney General's Office Multi-county Grand Jury Unit, she served as a white-collar crime prosecutor and legal advisor to the Multi-county Grand Jury. Her responsibilities included drafting Attorney General opinions, conducting complex research, and educating individuals throughout the state on topics such as the Open Meeting Act and Open Records Act.

Lauren's educational background includes a Juris Doctorate from the University of Oklahoma College of Law and an undergraduate degree in Accounting from Oklahoma State University. This diverse educational foundation, coupled with her professional experience, equips her with a broad skill set to tackle the complex legal and administrative challenges she faces in her role as Executive Director and General Counsel.

Additional Administrative Divisions

Records Division – Maintains the Commission’s file system, consisting of records from 2014 to present, and support docketing personnel. The Records Division assists the public with records requests and copy fees.

Compliance Department – Enforces 85A O.S. § 38, which requires employers to secure compensation, either through traditional workers’ compensation insurance coverage, or through self-insurance. The Division is run by a managing attorney who oversees four investigators, one of whom offices in Tulsa.

Order Writing Division – Assists the ALJs and Commissioners in drafting and finalizing orders in all cases.

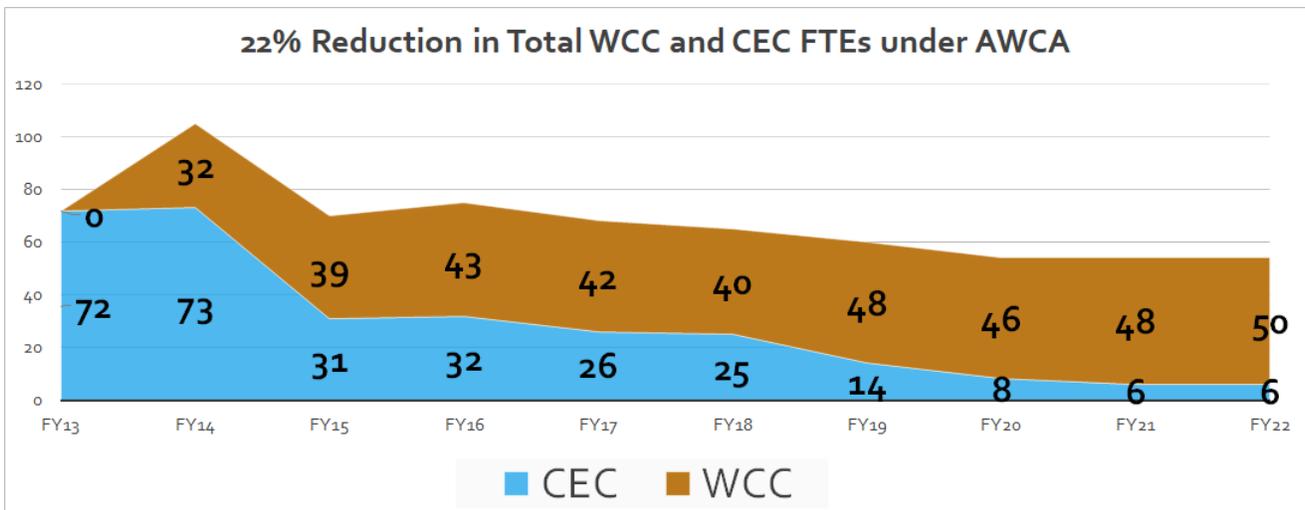

Counselors Division – Provides information about the workers’ compensation process, rules, and law to injured workers, employers, insurance carriers, medical providers, and other members of the public.

Permitting Services – Performs a variety of regulatory functions, including processing new and renewal applications for self-insured employers and group self-insurance associations, calculating rates for assessments imposed by Title 85A of the Oklahoma Statutes, and issuing Certificates of Non-Coverage.

Docketing – Sets hearings and prehearing conferences, notifies parties of hearing dates, and manages administrative law judges’ dockets.

Case Commencement – Processes and files incoming Form-3 filings for workers’ compensation claims.

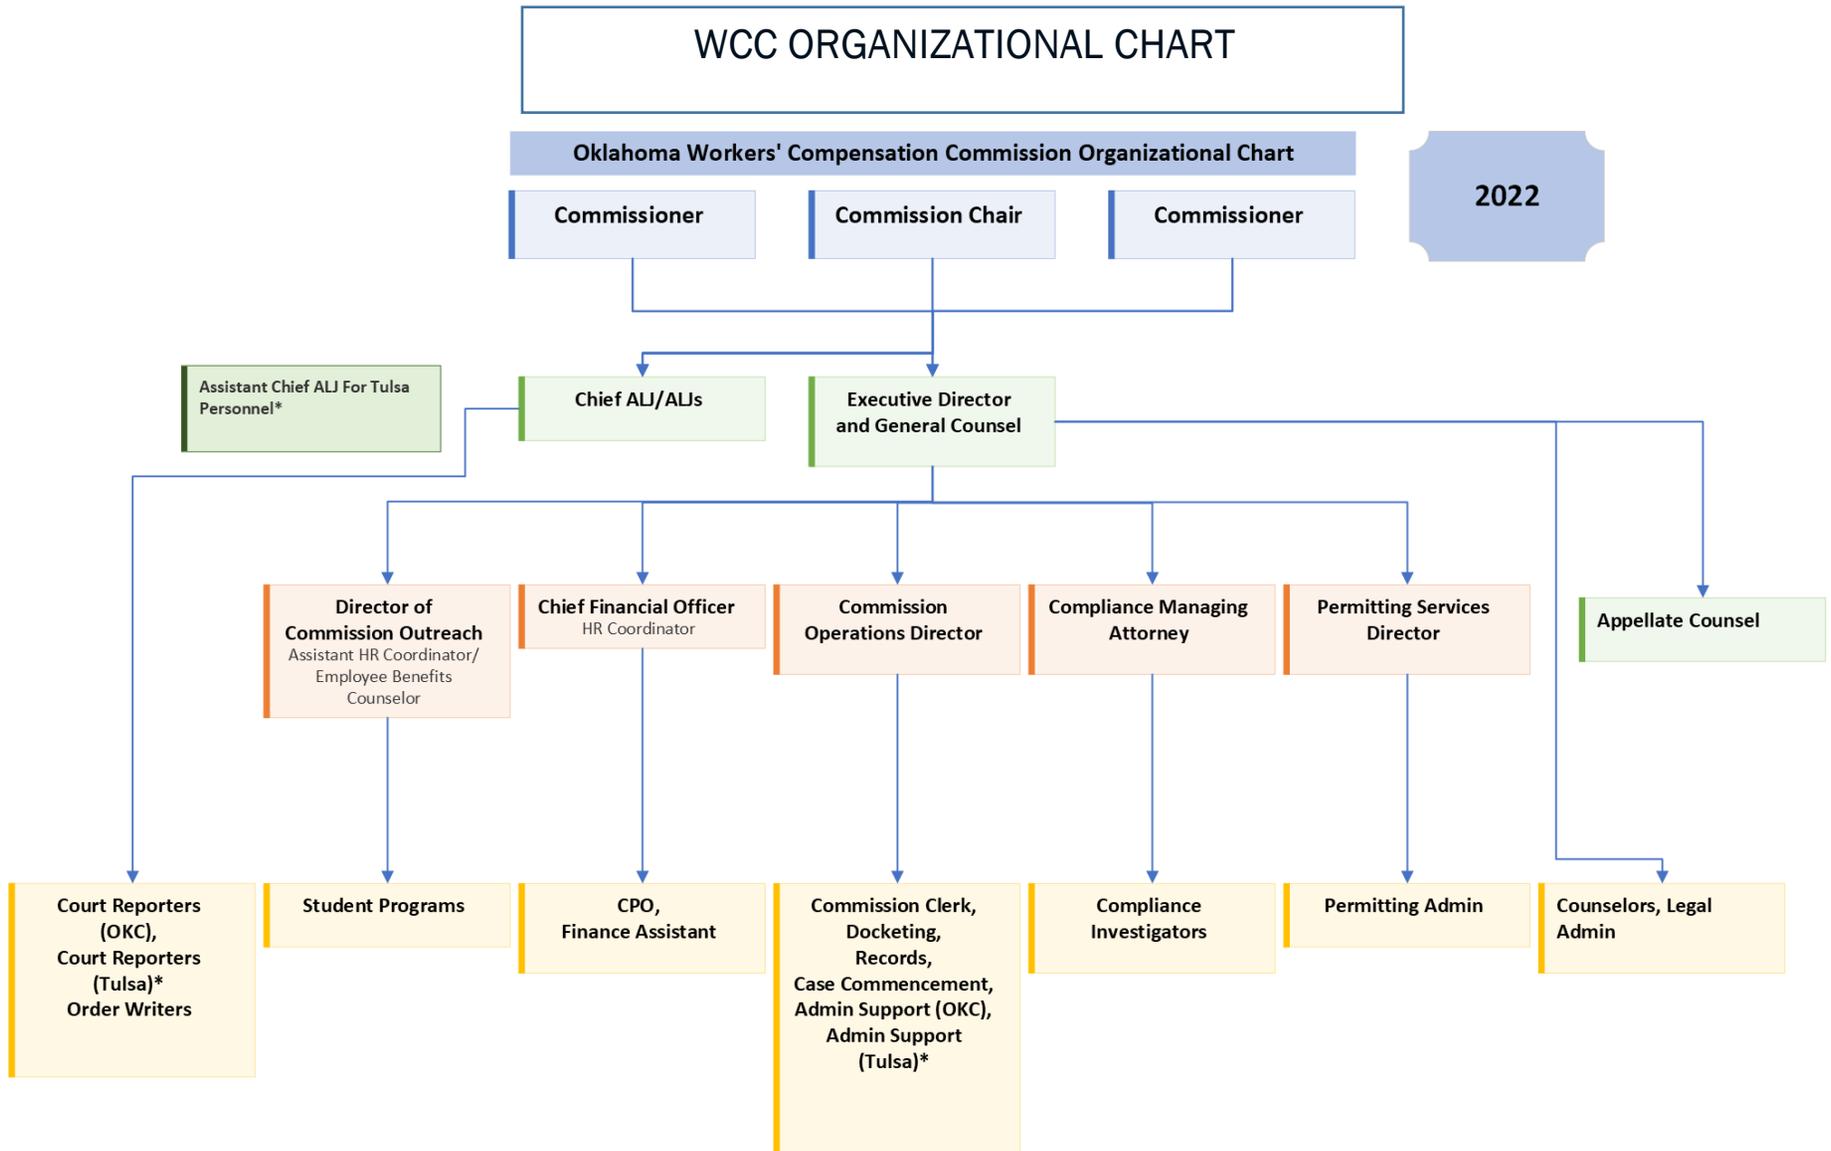

Commission Outreach Division – The Commission relies on its Administrative Division to perform several different important agency functions. Title 85A O.S. § 109(D) requires the Commission to develop an annual training program to train and educate stakeholders about the new workers’ compensation system.

The chart above shows increased efficiency in FTE's to administer the State's workers' comp system and a decrease in cases since the adoption of AWCA in 2013. The WCC and CEC have been able to manage the State's worker's compensation system with 22% fewer employees.

DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION UNDERWAY AT WCC:

CaseOK

The Commission is nearing the finish line in its effort to bring all of its services online under one software system. The new system, dubbed “CaseOK,” has been designed and built from the ground up by Commission staff and a local software developer. The system follows the Commission’s work flow creating staffing efficiencies, managing data and giving the Commission’s customers the ability to conduct business anywhere there is internet access. CaseOK will bring selected WCC and CEC records to a searchable online database, allow online submission of permit applications and fees, as well as delivery of documents. CaseOK allows injured workers and attorneys to electronically file and receive orders and documents in administrative cases. The development of CaseOK has been fully funded by WCC savings and efficiencies from its existing revenue along with contribution by the CEC for its modules.

Oklahoma Workers' Compensation Commission 2022 Annual Report

The chart on the right shows appeals per claim filing. Since the implementation of the AWCA and the creation of the Commission, the number of appeals per claim have decreased dramatically.

Appeals are costly for both the claimant and the respondent. For the claimant who ultimately succeeds, in their case he or she must wait significantly longer for benefits. Even a delay of only a few weeks to docket the appeal can be significant for an injured worker who is struggling financially and unable to work.¹

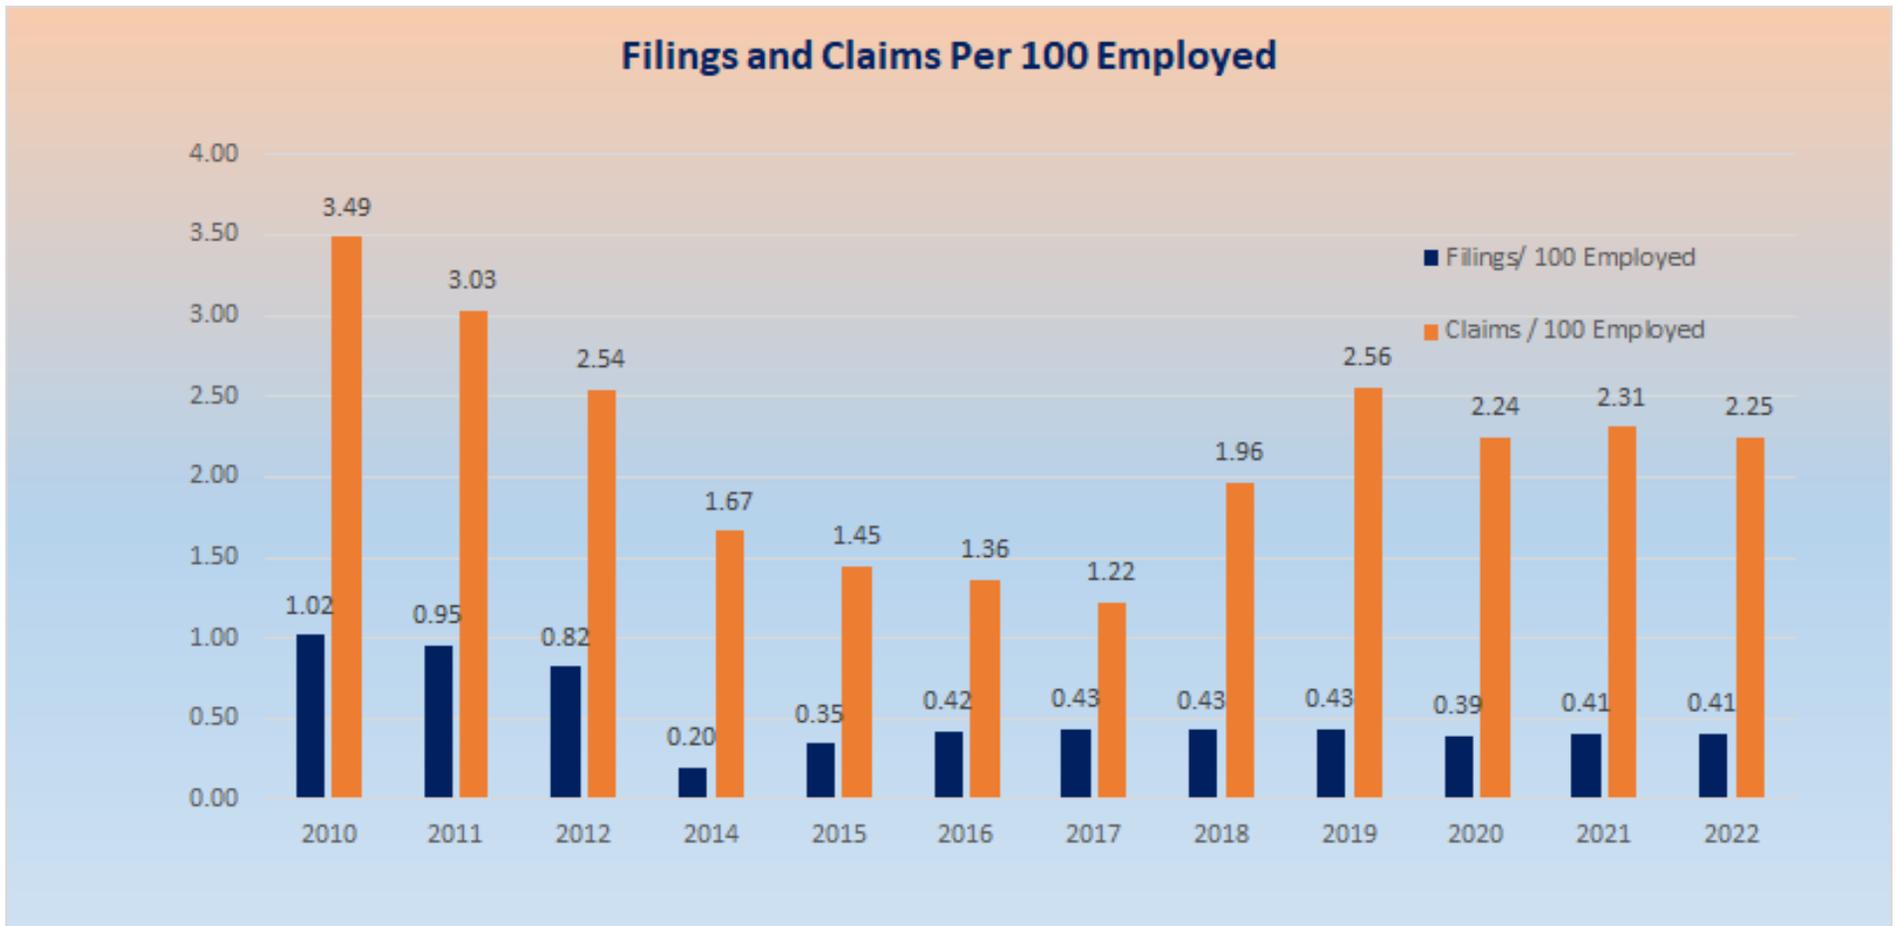

¹ 2013 Data is omitted because the Workers' Compensation Court did not release an Annual Report for that year. 2014 data is omitted because the Commission had not yet been in operation for a significant period of time, so it is not representative of a typical year. Total Commission claim filings in 2014 were 3,541, and there were no appeals filed with the Commission during That year. The Court last released an Annual Report for 2012.

Oklahoma Workers' Compensation Commission

2022 Annual Report

This chart shows the total number of cases filed and claims per 100 people employed from 2010 to 2022. After the creation of the Workers' Compensation Commission, the number of filed cases dropped by nearly one half. In 2018, the Commission adopted EDI for Insurance claims reporting. The increased efficiency in claims reporting can be seen in the abrupt rise in claims counted from 2018 onwards. From 2021 to 2022 there was a 2.4% increase in employment in Oklahoma. Case filings have remained steady while insurance filings dropped slightly.

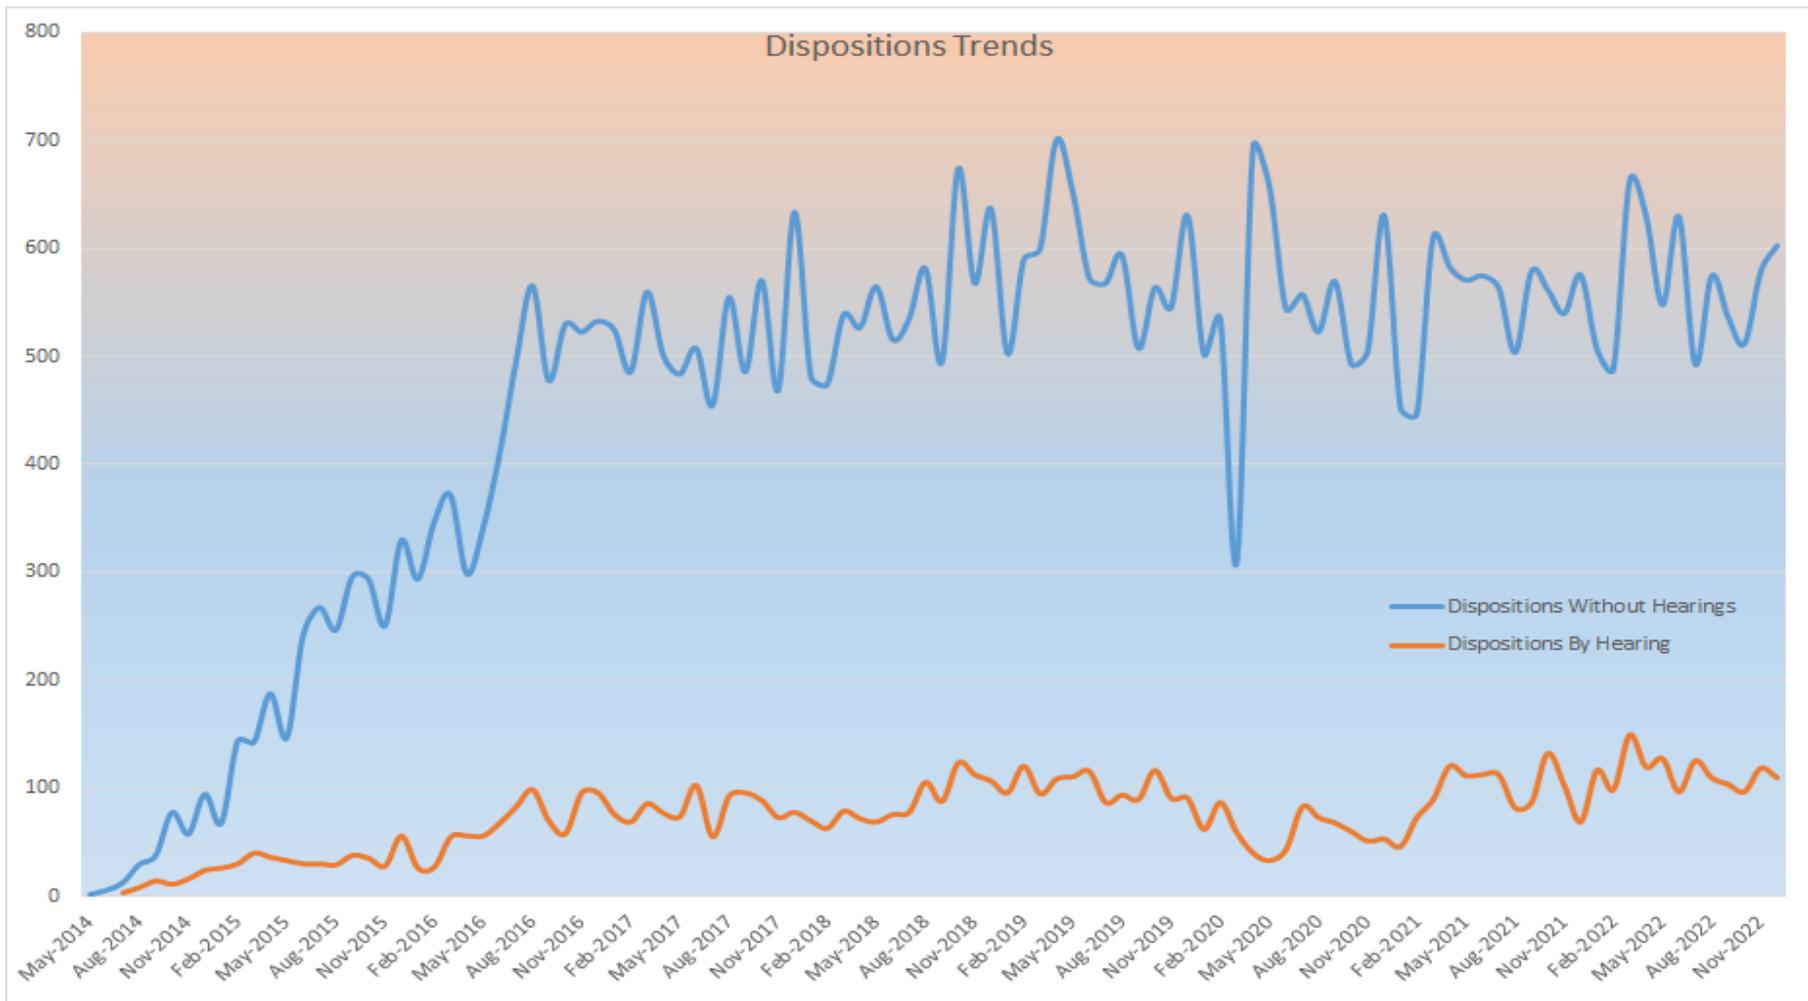

2013 Data is omitted because the Workers' Compensation Court did not release an Annual Report for that year. 2014 data is omitted because the Commission had not yet been in operation for a significant period of time, so it is not representative of a typical year. One of the WCC's most important goals is to dispose of cases in a timely manner to help injured workers return to work and ensure they receive the compensation owed to them by law. Often, formal hearings are necessary to accomplish this goal, but more often, disputes can be settled without the time-consuming process the hearing poses. This chart shows dispositions of cases dating back to the Commission's inception, and demonstrates that the vast majority of cases are resolved without the need for a hearing.

¹Temporary total disability was previously 70% of the employee's average weekly wage, not to exceed 70% of the state's average weekly wage. Upon the effective date of HB2367, it became 70% of employee's average weekly wage, not to exceed 100% of the state's average weekly wage.

² Permanent partial disability was 70% of the employee's average weekly wage, not to exceed $323 per week. Upon the effective date of HB2367, the PPD limit was increased from $323 per week to $350 per week, and $360 per week effective July 1, 2021.

³ Permanent total disability is 70% of the employee's average weekly wage, not to exceed 100% of the state's average weekly wage

⁴ The maximum aggregate weekly benefits payable to all beneficiaries shall not exceed 100% of the average weekly wage of the deceased employee or 100% of the state's average weekly wage, whichever is less.

⁵The Workers' Compensation Commission determined on 10/18/19 that 85A O.S. §2(24) requires that the effective date of the average weekly wage is January 1 of the year following the determination of the rate by the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission, rather than November 1 of the prior year. For example, the rate for 2019 becomes effective January 1, 2019, rather than November 1, 2018.

⁶ The Temporary Total Disability rate was amended to 70% of the employee's average weekly wage, not to exceed 100% of the state's average weekly wage, by HB2367, effective May 29, 2019.
